Stewardship – August 5 “Each day the people are to go out and gather their daily portion; thus will I test them, to see whether they follow my instructions or not.” (Exodus 16:4). God frowns upon it when we take or keep more than we need. When the Israelites gathered more than their daily portion of manna, which which they hoarded away became wormy and rotten. In the same way, God calls us today to be content with a fair portion and to be willing to share the rest.

From the Pastor’s Desk

I love conversion stories and here is one I read on catholicnewsagency.com:

“I was a really committed atheist and I really hated the Catholic Church,” said poet Sally Read, as she explained how all that dramatically changed during nine months in 2010. “The whole process took from March to December, and I was received into the Catholic Church at the Vatican in December, so it was a bit of a lightning flash.”

A 41-year-old Englishwoman, Sally Read is regarded as a rising star within the world of poetry.

“As I was writing this book, I became very aware that I didn’t know where the soul was and I didn’t know if the soul existed. And it was really driving me crazy.” Her frustration led her into discussion, and often heated debate, with a Canadian priest who was based in the coastal resort town.

“So, while I was talking to this priest about, well, is there a God and all of that kind of stuff, I kind of had this feeling as a poet that God was the ultimate poet and the ultimate Creator, and I was simply being used as an instrument,” she recalled.

Read was raised in a strictly anti-religious household and, so, she now felt like “everything I had ever believed in (was) being turned upside down.”

“It was very, very difficult. I mean, I wasn’t sleeping at all. I was very emotionally traumatized,” she said, describing those months in 2010 as “the most disrupted period in my whole life.”

Her turmoil ended abruptly one afternoon when she stepped into a local Catholic Church.

“Just one day, I was in tears and said to this icon of Christ, ‘If you’re there, then you have to help me.’ And, this thing happened which is very hard to explain, but I felt as if I was being physically lifted up and my tears stopped, and I felt this presence.”

Her journey into the Catholic Church quickly followed.

“I realized that there was only one Church and the way to be closest to Christ was to be a Catholic, because it’s the Eucharist and taking Communion.”

Since then she has faced opposition from family members and shock from a socially-liberal artistic establishment. And, yet, “I’m still happier than I’ve ever been,” she said with a broad grin on her face.

Conversion stories always remind me that God is alive and active. No doubt about it!

Mary, our patroness, pray for us.

Fr. Beran

RELIGIOUS EDUCATION NEWS

St. Mary’s Religious Education Program is in need of catechists & aides for the 2012-2013 school year. Each year we ask for help and each year we are happy to be able to fill our needs with generous volunteers.

WAYNE STATE CATHOLIC NEWMAN NEWS

Facebook: Wayne State Catholic Newman 375-2000

Remembering Our Fallen Warriors of the 21st Century are professionals who volunteered to join the United States Armed Forces. They grew up in the shadow of September 11, 2001, a defining moment for most of them. Many have endured multiple deployments and most return home. Some do not. “Remembering Our Fallen” was created to honor those who made the ultimate sacrifice in the Iraq and Afghanistan wars. Its legacy will be that these men and women will never be forgotten and that their names will be remembered and spoken. Remembering Our Fallen, a touring photo display, will be set up in Wayne from August 14 - 21 at the Wayne Armory. Local sponsors include: Arnie’s Ford, Flowers and Wine, Wayne County Veterans, The Wayne Greenhouse, and Hasemann Funeral Homes. Check out the web page at rememberingourfallen.org or call Scott Hasemann at 402-369-0967 for information.
